

ALL DAIRIES IN TERRITORY HAVE BEEN INSPECTED

Sanitary Survey Made; Report Shows Health Board to Have Spent $417,942.84

Every dairy in the territory has been inspected and a sanitary survey made of it, according to the annual report of the board of health, made to Governor Lucius E. Pinkham, and signed by Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, president of the board.

"A complete sanitary inspection has been made of every dairy in the territory, for the use of the milk commission appointed by you on January 20, 1916," says part of the report.

Relative to physicians in the territory, the report adds that there are now 138 licensed doctors in the islands, of which 74 are American, 41 Japanese, 13 British, four German, four Chinese, one Portuguese and one Norwegian.

Receipts of the board of health for the year from July 1, 1915, to June 30, 1916, were $37,827.46, while expenditures in the same period were $417,942.84.

Dr. Pratt takes occasion to inform Governor Pinkham that the present condition of the Honolulu water supply is below the standard adopted by the U. S. public health service for water furnished by a common carrier in interstate traffic.

"Attention of the Honolulu water works was called to the mixing of the Nuuanu Valley supply with the artesian supply in the business section below School street, due to leaky valves. After considerable delay new valves have been installed on Nuuanu below School and at Fort and School, which should remedy the trouble. The chlorination plant for the Nuuanu supply has not worked satisfactorily at all times," adds the reference.

Relative to physical defects reported among pupils of the public schools, the report states that in eye defects Japanese lead with 48.4 per cent of the total number of eye cases reported. Chinese are second, Portuguese third and part-Hawaiian fourth. (As the Japanese preponderate in number of pupils, so do they lead in number of physical defects reported, it should be remembered.)

Teeth defects were found in 1635 Japanese pupils, where Chinese had 944 cases, Portuguese 939 and part-Hawaiian 779.

FEWER WEDDINGS IN ISLANDS THAN IN YEAR BEFORE

Births, However, Are 100 Per Cent Above Deaths; Health of Territory Good

Dan Cupid was not so busy last year as previously and as a result there were 65 fewer marriages in Honolulu for the fiscal year ending June 30, than for the year before, and 14 less in the territory, says a portion of the annual report made by President J. S. B. Pratt of the territorial board of health to Governor Lucius E. Pinkham.

Total marriages in the territory for the year were 2716. The largest number of weddings were performed in August and December, 1915, and the smallest in September and November, 1915, and May of this year.

Despite this decrease, the stork has been just twice as busy as the undertaker. The report shows that there was 100.48 per cent increase in the number of births above deaths. Births were 7839, while deaths totaled only 3940. Births were 977 more than in the previous year.

An interesting item concerning births is that Japanese babies form nearly two-thirds of the total. There were 4629 births recorded at the Japanese consulate in the year.

Deaths in the territory, 3940, were 384 more than for the fiscal year of 1914-15. Excluding deaths from external causes, of which there were 286 in the territory, the death rate in the islands for the year was 15.33 per thousand.

In Honolulu 1321 deaths occurred, 158 more than for 1914-15, making the death rate 19.43 per thousand. Excluding deaths from external causes, 77, the death rate in this city is 18.29 for every thousand inhabitants.

The death rate from typhoid fever in Honolulu was lower than any year on record. It was only 20.6 per 100,000 inhabitants. There were 43 less cases of paratyphoid than in 1914-15. "With improvement in sanitary conditions in the coming year it is hoped for a still further reduction," says the report.

"While an analysis of the mortality and morbidity reports," says Dr. Pratt's report in part, "shows that there has been a slight increase of 1.20 in the mortality rate over the previous year, and on account of measles a considerable increase in morbidity reports, yet on the whole the health of the territory has been good."

HIGHER LIVING COSTS HIGHER, MEAT PRICES UP

Advances Will Not Affect the Cheaper Cuts But Better Selections Rise

The price of wholesale steer beef goes up one cent today in Honolulu, cost of prime retail cuts advances 2 1/2 cents, but the rougher and cheaper cuts remain the same.

G. J. Waller, Jr., secretary of the Hawaii Meat Company, Ltd., says there is no particular reason for the rise, but it is understood that scarcity of steer beef due to drought and the absence of the Australian supply since the war are causes. The Hawaii company recently obtained the army contract here, which makes island beef dearer.

That all prime cuts of steer beef will go up 2 1/2 cents today was the announcement of Antoine Louis, proprietor of the Metropolitan Meat Market. He says this rise will be generally observed in all markets here, but that prices of other meats will not be affected.

A. T. Longley, superintendent of the Territorial Marketing Division, had not heard of the new prices when questioned this morning about the division prices, but said the latter would quite likely correspond with prevailing prices in other markets.

Waller couldn't say whether there would be another advance. He pointed out, however, that poorer people will not be affected by the rise.
